EUROPE'S TANGLE

TELLS CAUSES OF WAR

The Racial Differences, Order in Which Nations Took Up Arms and Why Are Made Plain.

Dr. Thomas E. Green took all of his time Saturday afternoon to explain to his audience at Chautauqua the origin and development of the European war, and every one of his hearers sat for two hours listening to the most interesting way in which he unravelled the European tangle.

Dr. Green first explained the difference between Teuton and Slav and the struggle between them.

The Teutons are the Germanic peoples of Europe, living largely in Germany and Austria. The origin of the Slavs is doubtful. There is no reason for their name. It signifies nothing as to language or race and might just as well have been anything else. The Slavs were a wandering people and are now found scattered throughout Europe. The Servians and many other people of the Balkan states, the Poles and Russians are Slavs.

For some unknown reason there has always been an antipathy between the Slavs and the Teutons. Their hatred for each other can no more be explained than can the reason be given for the enmity between dogs and cats.

A Constant Struggle for Seaports.

A second thing necessary for the understanding of the war, Dr. Green said, was the realization of the overcrowded condition of Europe. Americans are too prone to stand in awe of the nations of Europe, which are only small patches of ground comparatively, and the whole of them could be placed two and a half times in that section of the United States that lies between Albany, N. Y., and Denver, Col. Each of these countries has a vital need for seaports, and it is the struggle for seaports which has long kept Europe in trouble and is really at the bottom of the present war.

The Make-Up of Austro-Hungary.

The make-up of the Austro-Hungarian empire and its government explains one of the principal reasons for the present struggle. The empire is composed of Austria, whose people are German; Hungary, whose people are Tartars, the descendants of the Huns brought into Europe by Attila, and Bohemia, whose people are Slavs.

This empire is under the rule of Austria, the reigning house of which, the Hapsburgs, has been on the throne for 300 years.

These Hapsburg rulers, with the same characteristics as their people, have been a daring, reckless and wicked lot of men. Not one of them has died a natural death. They have all been killed in battle, assassinated or have committed suicide. Franz Josef selected the least debauched of his nephews as his successor. It was the assassination of this nephew, the crown prince, this summer that precipitated the war.

The Alliance and the Entente.

Dr. Green then explained the meaning of the triple alliance and triple Entente.

The triple alliance was formed by Bismarck after the Franco-Prussian war, in 1871. For the protection of the German peoples he united the German states and Austria. To make the thing still stronger, Italy, who had feared France ever since Napoleon had placed his son on the throne at Rome, was induced to join. These three nations signed a treaty that bound them hard and fast to aid each other in war.

Entente is nothing more than the French word meaning "understanding." It is a "gentleman's agreement" among England, France and Russia to look after each other's welfare.

Causes of the Present War.

And now comes the more immediate causes of the war.

At the time of the first Balkan war Servia tried to get seaports. Austria prevented this by taking the two small countries on the coast, Bosnia and Hertzegovina, uniting them into an independent nation and promising them protection. This was just another of the many things that have made the Slavs bitter against the Teutons.

Then, as the immediate cause, comes the assassination of the Austrian crown prince. On a trip of inspection to Bosnia (during the recent Balkan war Austria had annexed it) a bomb was thrown at him. He threw up his arm and knocked it into the street behind his carriage, escaping injury. He went on to the government building and in a speech reproved the governor for such poor protection of the future ruler. During the return of the procession the crown prince and his wife were shot by a Servian, a university student from Belgrade.

Franz Josef Stirs Up Trouble.

The trouble had about died down, when Franz Josef suddenly made three demands on Servia. He asked: First, that the assassin be given to Austria for trial; second, that Servia apologize, and third, that Servia guarantee to stop all further Slavic agitation against Austria.

Servia refused the first, complied with the second, and it was beyond her control to guarantee the third. Austria took this as an unsatisfactory answer and gave Servia forty-eight hours to right it. It could not be done, so Austria sent troops to bombard Belgrade, the capital of Servia.

With this attack on the small Slavic country by Austria, Russia with her 50,000,000 Slavs began to mobilize her troops and refused to reply to Austria's demand asking for the reason of Russia's mobilization.

Austria then called on her ally, Germany, and the kaiser demanded a reply from Russia. Russia said Austria must cease operations against Servia. Then Germany began to mobilize. Italy flatly refused to support her allies.

England Fails to Make Peace.

At this juncture King George of England called on France and Italy to help try to bring about peace. Servia was to submit an explanation of her position. The explanation was made, and England, France and Italy agreed that Austria was in the wrong. War preparations continued, and Russia called on France for aid.

France, too, was glad of a chance to try to regain the provinces of Alsace and Lorraine, lost to Germany in the Franco-Prussian war. She said she would be glad to enter the present conflict if her coast could in some way be protected, and England was the only country left to protect the coast of France. After long consideration England, to protect France's coast and to keep Germany from becoming a strong naval power, joined with France and Russia.

The smaller countries are falling into line as their fancy or blood relation dictates.

"EVERY MAN CAN BE A KING."

Mrs. Leonora M. Lake Pleads For a Pure, Wholesome Life and Urges the Happy Habit.

"When Man is King" was the subject of Mrs. Leonora M. Lake's address at Chautauqua last night, and it was a plea for a more wholesome, natural life and a hopeful expression that such a life was coming.

"King," said Mrs. Lake, "means 'the man who is able.' It is therefore possible for every man to be a king. He must be able to live as his God intended he should live. To do this he must be able to overcome, and to overcome himself more than anything else. The man who cannot control his own actions will never lead the kingly life."

Mrs. Lake then listed several things that men must put away from themselves. Profanity, bad temper, worry,

FRENCHMAN DEAD

DR. LAFAYETTE OF HOPKINS, 95 YEARS OLD, BURIED TODAY.

RELATIVE OF GENERAL

Dr. Thomas Lafayette, one of the oldest physician in the country, died at his home in Hopkins at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, after a severe month's illness due to old age. The funeral services, held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at the residence were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Griffith, pastor of the Baptist church of Hopkins. Burial took place at the Hopkins cemetery.

Thomas Lafayette was 95 years old. He was born September 17, 1819, at Leon, France. His paternal grandfather and Marquis de Lafayette, who rendered such signal assistance to the American Colonies, during the war of the Revolution, were cousins. Dr. Lafayette had retained a vivid recollection of many visits of the Marquis to the home of his grandfather.

Thomas Lafayette received his preliminary education in the parish schools at Leon, and having decided to make the practice of medicine his life work, he entered the Paris Academy of Medicine, where he spent seven years in study. The following ten years were spent in practice in the various hospitals of Paris and other cities.

Dr. Lafayette came to this country in 1850. His first location was at Reid's Landing, Minnesota, an Indian mission, where he spent several years. During the Civil war, he enlisted in a Minnesota infantry regiment, with which he served throughout the war. He took part in several of the most hotly contested battles, including the engagement at Pittsburgh Landing.

He was honorably discharged from the service in 1866, after which he resumed his professional practice, locating at Faribault and Morristown, Minn., where he remained several years. He then went to St. Louis, and later practiced at what it now known as Oronogo, near Joplin, Mo., and then came to Hopkins, where he lived the rest of his life.

Dr. Lafayette was married when a young man, and his wife died several years ago. Several children, living in New York, survive him but as he preferred the life of a recluse he had not even heard from his family in many years. He had lived alone since coming to Hopkins.

A GOOD RACE MEET.

Creston Horse to Go After the World's Record For Five-Eighths of a Mile at Maryville.

The race meet at the county fair, September 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, promises to be one of the very best in this part of the country. Maryville is a member of the Big Four circuit, composed of St. Joseph, Parnell, Creston and this city. The dates of the four race meets follow closely.

Mr. Stevens announces that he is planning to start Miss Sly, D. J. W. Coakley's fast mare, after the world's record for five-eighths of a mile at the Maryville meet if conditions are favorable. He is confident that if the track is fast and the mare in good condition she can lower the mark. If the attempt is made notice will be given to the people of Creston in time for admirers of horseflesh to witness the trial.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Casteel of Ravenwood were in the city Sunday evening visiting relatives and friends.

SENATOR CANCELS

LAFOLLETTE IS SICK, BUT G. R. STUART REPLACES HIM.

MRS. GATES TOMORROW

Tuesday a Big Day—Auditorium Tent Filled to Capacity at Both Programs Sunday.

Tonight.

8:00—Concert, which will include a "playette," by Avon company.

Tuesday.

Morning:

9:00—Field day sports for boys and girls under 14 years of age.

Afternoon:

2:00—Prelude, Avon Sketch club.

2:30—Lecture, George R. Stuart.

Evening:

8:00—Prelude, Avon company.

8:30—Reading of play, by Lulu Tyler Gates.

Tomorrow is considered one of the biggest days of the Chautauqua, despite the fact that Senator Robert M. LaFollette cannot be here. The management has received notice that Senator LaFollette is sick and cannot fill any of his engagements In his stead George R. Stuart is coming. And for the night program Lulu Tyler Gates will be here.

George R. Stuart is the Kentucky preacher who has been here twice before and kept his audiences laughing with his funny stories. While the cancellation of LaFollette is a disappointment, the management considers it very fortunate that such a strong man as Stuart was procured.

Miss Gates is expected to draw one of the largest crowds of the season tomorrow night, for she has done it on two other occasions here. "Daddy-Long-Legs," a recent popular story, her reading of which has been making a hit this summer, will be given here.

Yesterday's attendance was practically the same as that of a year ago, and at both afternoon and evening programs the big tent was filled to capacity. The report of Dr. Green's talk Saturday and the announcement that he would continue it Sunday drew a large crowd yesterday to hear him discuss the European war. A member of the peace commission, conversant with the facts at first hand, and the interest taken by the people in the war combined to make it one of the most interesting addresses ever given here.

In fact the whole of the first two days, Dixie people, Mrs. Leonora M. Lake, Sunday school day and all were successful.

ST. BENEDICT'S PARISH PICNIC.

Big Day Enjoyed by the People of Burlington Junction Church.

The members of St. Benedict's church celebrated a joyous day Saturday. The little church was well filled for the service at 9 o'clock, when the Rev. Patrick Cummins, O. S. B., one of the former boys of the congregation, celebrated mass, preached an appropriate sermon and gave benediction with blessed sacrament.

At 11 o'clock every one adjourned to the picnic grounds, a pretty spot on the river just north of the railway, opened by the courtesy of W. W. Jones. At noon a feast of good things was enjoyed and the afternoon spent in delightful enjoyment. The families present were T. J. Tobin and family, Richard Tobin and family, Pat Cummins and family, John Messbarger and family, W. M. Messbarger and family, Roy Lyle and family, Bert Messbarger and family, J. H. Gebbeken and family, Joe Messbarger and family. Among the visitors present were F. E. Cummins of St Joseph, Mary, Helen, Thomas and Phil Tobin and Agnes and Bernard Sherlock of Maryville.

To Visit in Omaha.

WELL AND SANDPOINTS

Diggers Are Having Trouble—Wabash's Expert Arrived Yesterday and is Prospecting.

Since starting the big 6-foot well on the Ditto place, just west of the water works, Saturday afternoon, work has been kept up incessantly. The men are having a hard time with it to get it curbed and keep the quick sand out of it, but they are gradually deepening it. Digging has to be stopped about every twenty minutes to pump out the sand and water. The work is hard and exhausts the men rapidly, so that many shifts are used. The aldermen have been helping with it.

The engine which is to be used for pumping the well is already here and in operation, pumping out the sand and water. The strainer has arrived and will be put into the well as soon as it can be dug.

Should the suction of the pump draw fine sand through the strainer and fill the well, as some persons think it will, a sandpoint will be used instead.

Yesterday Mr. Hawkinsmith superintendent of the Wabash railroad's water system, came to prospect for a water supply. He sunk a small hole about 100 feet west of the reservoir and found a supply which, with the use of a sandpoint, will give about forty gallons a minute, he believes. He advised putting down another sandpoint about twenty feet away and pumping from the two of them directly into the reservoir for temporary relief. This would give nearly 50,000 gallons a day.

Today Mr. Hawkinsmith is prospecting in a direct line northwest from the hole he sunk yesterday. He believes the stratum of sand, about eight feet of clear, coarse sand, runs in that direction, and if the results he finds are satisfactory he advises the installation of a series of sandpoints, joined by laterals to a main and all pumped by one pump.

These are only tentative plans, and it depends on the supply of water found as to whether they will be carried out at all.

The board of public works said this morning, however, that whether anything came of this, the work of prospecting for a supply would be continued until one was found or it was proved beyond doubt that there is none. Some sandpoints are here now, and as many others as may be needed are available.

Meanwhile, an effort will be made to get the big well in operation as soon as possible and to put down and pump three or four sandpoints.

FUNERAL FOR MISS CARSON.

Services Held at Burlington Junction This Afternoon.

The funeral services of Miss Dertha Carson, who died Sunday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Carl Kidney, two miles north of Wilcox, were held at 1 o'clock today at Burlington Junction. The body was interred in the cemetery at Burlington Junction.

The deceased was about 35 years old and had been blind for the past nine years. With her widowed mother she had made her home with a brother-in-law, Carl Kidney, and his family for a number of years.

BIG FIGHT IS ON

GENERAL BATTLE BETWEEN GERMANS AND ALLIES RAGES.

ADRIATIC NAVAL WAR

Report Says French Squadron Sinks Two Austrian Vessels and Sets Fire to Third.

(By American Press.)

Omaha, August 17.—The general battle between the Germans and the allied forces, which has been imminent for the last week, has begun and is now raging at its height. A naval battle in the North Adriatic is also reported.

A dispatch from Nish says that two Austrian battleships have been sunk, another set on fire and a third put to flight by a French squardon.

Another dispatch from Servia dated Sunday says: "A naval battle between French and Austrian warships off Budua, Austria, on the Adriatic, at 9 o'clock this morning. The French squadron, coming somewhat from the southwest, attacked the Austrian warships. Two Austrian ironclads were sunk, a third set on fire and the fourth fled northward toward Cataro.

"The fight lasted more than an hour."

MANY ENTRIES BEING RECEIVED.

For the Live Stock Show at the Fair—Season Tickets for $2.

The Nodaway County Fair and Agricultural association in Maryville, September 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5, promises to be a great success. Many entries are being received daily for the live stock shows, and also the race meet. The agricultural exhibit will consist of a fine display of products and the poultry show is attracting a great deal of attention. The interest that is taken all over the county in the coming fair assures the management that a record breaking crowd will be in attendance.

Season tickets are now on sale at the drug stores in the city, and they sell for $2. Single admission tickets will be 50 cents.

Harrison Bros., who own the land just north of the fair grounds, will have charge of the teams at the fair. A small charge of 10 cents will be made for the caring of the teams there. George Lucas will have charge of a feed barn on his farm, just east of the grounds.

Everything is in readiness for the opening, the race track is in good condition, and there will be plenty of water. There are four good wells on the grounds at present. Unless rain is had by next week the road in front of the grounds and also the race track will be sprinkled daily.

The management promises that there will be no gambling or no cheap shows at the fair. They have issued eighteen complimentary tickets to the ministers of the city.

WABASH TRESTLE DESTROYED.

Practically No Train Service On Wabash Sunday and Monday On Account of Burning of Trestle.

Maryville was practically without train service Sunday and Monday on the Wabash, owing to the burning of a high trestle on that road one mile west of Wilcox. The trestle was destroyed Saturday night and caught fire from a spark from the engine on the night passenger train. On Sunday a train from Stanberry arrived here about 2 o'clock and went to the destroyed trestle, where passengers transferred from the train that was on the other side of the trestle. This train returned to Maryville and on down the line as No. 12 passenger. Sunday evening No. 3 arrived about 7:11 and went to the scene of the fire, where their passengers transferred to a train on the other side of the burned trestle. Then No. 3 left Maryville, taking No. 14 schedule. Monday morning No. 51 passenger from Stanberry arrived about 9 o'clock and went to the scene of the fire and returned as No. 12.

It is thought that regular train service will be resumed this evening.

deceitfulness, in temperance and such things. In addition to overcoming any of these things in himself, every man should encourage his fellows to do without them.

Our present condonation of the excesses of our young men is a disgrace, she says.

In closing, Mrs. Lake expressed the belief that a time was coming when men would live free from these faults, and she urged the happy habit. She told her hearers to think of what might have been, and then give thanks and be happy for what is.

THE FARMERS PROTECT US.

Dr. Green Says This Country is Too Valuable as World's Granary to Be Attacked.

The farmers of America are worth more to her as protection against war than all the soldiers, guns and war vessels that could be gathered along her coasts, according to Dr. Thomas E. Green in his lecture yesterday on "America, the World's Peacemaker."

The United States need never fear an attack, he said, because, as the country which feeds the world, she is too valuable to it for the nations to allow any other nation to make war on her.

With this as his principal reason as to why the United States should remain a peaceful nation, Dr. Green went on to show the awful cost of war in life, suffering, misery, poverty, physical weakening of a people, retarding of progress and the money cost.

That the United States, a nation free from any complications with other powers, situated apart from them and without an enemy, spends annually the millions of dollars which she does in order to keep up an army and navy that is a cheap imitation of European insanity is an absurdity and a crime against the people, he said.

Last year this country spent 72 per cent of her income, $700,000,000, to pay the expenses of the war, navy and pension departments of the government. Money with which all the arid portions of the country could and ought to be irrigated and made fertile, Dr. Green believes.

One battleship costs $15,000,000 to build, $750,000 annually to keep in repair and is no good after ten years of service. The cost of one battleship would build modern, sanitary tenements sufficient to house 300,000 persons, or it would give 35,000 boys a four year's university training.

"War, the fighting, never accomplished anything," said Dr. Green. "After the battles are over, about six men get together and settle the differences. Very, very few of the world's advancements can be traced as a direct result of war.

"The abolishment of slavery is apparently one of these few things. Yet the money which the civil war cost would have bought, educated, endowed and transported all the negroes, if you wish that, thirty-seven times."

Mexico is the United States' most delicate and dangerous question, according to Dr. Green. To his personal knowledge, the intervention was brought on by an organized propaganda of a few greedy capitalists. He believes we will get out somehow, but if we don't we will some day have a situation like that of Europe on our hands.

WASHINGTON AND WILSON.

Former Gave Best Advice, Latter Issues Best Proclamation, Says Peace Advocate.

The first and present presidents of the United States were highly praised for their work for peace in the lecture of Dr. Thomas E. Green last Saturday.

He said that the best advice ever given to this country was that of Washington when he urged that the United States never become entangled in European affairs by treaties binding her to foreign countries.

"If we had signed a hard and fast treaty allying ourselves with England for the purpose of advancing the Anglo-Saxon peoples, see where we would be now in the present war," he said.

"Our only hope," Dr. Green added "is to continue following Washington's advice, and he complimented Woodrow Wilson for his efficient work in keeping unscrupulous Americans from violating neutrality.

"There never was a proclamation of neutrality in human history so carefully drawn as that of President Wilson," he declared.

EVERY SEAT HAS A BACK.

Provisions for More Comfort Made in Chautauqua Tent—Very Small Reserved Section.

Many expressions are being heard on the chautauqua grounds as to the comfortableness of the seats in the auditorium this year.

Every seat in the big tent has a back to it. A very few chairs in front of the platform are reserved.

The canvass seats with their backs are so much more comfortable than the old style plank benches, that the people have at once noticed it and many have expressed an added interest in the lectures because of the change.

And to make it still better, the large space in the center that used to be reserved is now open to everybody.

Leased Territory of Kiauchau Must Be Restored to China.

OTHERWISE JAPAN WILL ACT.

War Is Meant if Request Is Not Complied With.

Tokyo, Aug. 17.—Japan has sent an ultimatum to Germany, demanding the withdrawal of German warships from the Orient and the evacuation of Kiauchau, and giving Germany until Sunday, Aug. 23, to comply with the demand. Otherwise, the ultimatum states, Japan will take action.

The general expectation in Tokyo is that the ultimatum will be followed by war.

Takaaki Kato, the Japanese foreign minister, simultaneously with the dispatch of the ultimatum, conferred with George W. Guthrie, the American ambassador, and made to him a broad statement calculated to assure the United States that American interests in the far east would be safeguarded and China's integrity upheld.

Owing to doubts whether communications with Berlin were assured, Japan in order to insure the arrival of the ultimatum forwarded it to Berlin by six channels, including Washington, London and Stockholm. The government also notified Count von Rex, German ambassador to Japan, and likewise retarded the time limit for a reply until Aug. 23.

The Ultimatum.

The ultimatum follows:

"We consider it highly important and necessary in the present situation to take measures to remove the causes of all disturbances of the peace in the far east and to safeguard the general interests as contemplated by the agreement of alliance, between Japan and Great Britain.

"In order to secure a firm and enduring peace in eastern Asia, the establishment of which is the aim of the said agreement, the imperial Japan government sincerely believes its duty to give the advice to the German government to carry out the two following propositions:

"First, to withdraw from Japan and Chinese waters German men-of-war and armed vessels of all kind and to disarm at once those which cannot be so withdrawn.

"Second, to deliver on a date not later than Sept. 15 to the imperial Japanese authorities without condition or compensation the entire leased territory of Kiauchau, with a view to the eventual restoration of the same to China.

"The imperial Japanese government announces at the same time that in the event of it not receiving by noon on Aug. 23, 1914, an answer from the imperial German government signifying its unconditional acceptance of the above advice offered by the imperial Japanese government, Japan will be compelled to take such action as she may deem necessary to meet the situation."

U. S. to Deliver Jap Ultimatum.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Owing to cable interruption, Japan has not been able to deliver its ultimatum to Germany and the United States will undertake to communicate it to Berlin.

AMERICANS LEAVE GERMANY

Four Hundred Depart From Hamburg on Special Train.

London, Aug. 17.—A dispatch from Berlin by way of Copenhagen states that the return of the Americans homeward will now proceed more speedily, as railway traffic is becoming more regular from all the larger centers of Germany.

Sixty Americans left Munich for Holland. A train from Berlin for Holland on Wednesday will carry 400 Americans, including sixty from Dresden. Americans in Frankfort and Bad Nauheim will leave for Holland in ordinary trains, four of which will depart daily.

GENERAL BATTLE ON AT DINANT

French Troops Repulse the Germans.

FORCED BACK TEN MILES

Both Austria and Servia Claim to Have Had Best of Encounters.

LULL IN NORTH BELGIUM FIGHT

Invaders Sweeping Down Valley of Meuse.

WAR SUMMARY.

While the German forces are pushing forward through the valley of the Meuse, and still more extensive operations are in progress along the Alsace-Lorraine frontier, where the French and German armies are in contact, Japan has sent an ultimatum to Germany demanding the withdrawal of the German warships from the Orient and the evacuation of Kiauchau, a German protectorate in China.

Late dispatches report an offensive movement by the French from Luneville to Sarrebourg, but this is considered as yet merely an outpost affair.

A state of siege has been proclaimed in Bulgaria.

London, Aug. 17.—Despite the repeated repulses which they have suffered, the German battalions continue to move forward for a decisive encounter, which cannot be delayed much longer.

While there has been a lull in the fighting in northern Belgium, the invaders are sweeping along the valley of the Meuse, south of Namur, and have reached Dinant, where part of a strong French force, which is established behind that town, took the offensive and defeated them.

The incident shows that the French crossed the Belgian frontier to join hands with their allies not a moment too soon. All along the Alsace-Lorraine frontier the advance guards of the two opposing armies have come into contact, and, according to French official reports, the Germans have been driven back everywhere with loss.

French Hold Passes.

Strong French forces are now in possession of all the passes of the Vosges mountains, from the west as far as those leading down to Colmar. Farther south, French forces are ready to proceed over the flat country toward Muelhausen.

The French have taken the offensive along the line from Luneville to Sarrebourg, an the German frontier, but here, as in the other theaters of war, the main armies have not come into contact.

On the Austro-Servian and Austro-Russian frontiers both sides claim victories in encounters. But these can have little effect on the general result unless the Servians compel the Austrians to send stronger forces in an attempt to subdue them.

Austria is preparing to resist an attack on the shores of the Adriatic, which possibly will be undertaken by the joint Anglo-French troops. It is explained that the state of siege, which had been proclaimed in Bulgaria, is simply a precautionary measure so that the country will be prepared in case of emergency.

General Engagement Around Namur.

Brussels, Aug. 17.—A general engagement has occurred in the neighborhood of and southward of Namur, as far as Dinant, fifteen miles away.

An account of the fighting south of Namur says German cavalry occupied a portion of the town of Dinant, on the left bank of the Meuse, fifteen miles south of Namur. French infantry, coming from the north, however, drove them out of the town. The fight was principally an artillery affair. The French gradually drove the Germans back until they were about ten miles south of Dinant, pursued by mounted rifles and infantry.

An official announcement by the French war office says the French troops took over 500 German prisoners when they occupied several mountains around Donon, also known as Rougemont, on the border of German Lorraine.

Battle In Upper Alsace.

Delmont, Switzerland, Aug. 17.—Fighting has begun again in upper Alsoce, between Belfort and Altkirch. Gunfire is incessant. The French army which retired from Muelhausen has been reinforced and has renewed its advance.

SCENE OF BATTLE.

French-German Border, Where Greatest Battle of History Is In Progress.

FRENCH WIN VICTORY ON ADRIATIC SEA

Two Austrian Warships Sunk and Another Set on Fire.

London, Aug. 17.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegraph company from Nish, Servia, says: "A naval battle between French and Austrian warships began off Budua, Austria, on the Adriatic.

"The French squadron, coming from the southwest, attacked the Austrian warships. Two Austrian ironclads were sunk, one was set on fire, and a fourth fled northwards."

RIFLES FOR VOLUNTEERS

England to Let Irish Defend Their Country.

Dublin, Aug. 17.—John E. Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader, in a speech while presenting colors to the Marlborough corps of Irish volunteers, referred to the enthusiasm which had been aroused all over Ireland by his statement in the British parliament that Irishmen of the north and the south, whether Protestant or Catholic, were prepared to fight shoulder to shoulder to defend the Irish shores against a foreign foe and to preserve order. He added:

"I have in my possession and will shortly be able to present the volunteers several thousand rifles.

"I have information that the British government, which has publicly declared its intention of entrusting the defense of Ireland to the Irish volunteers, is about to arm, equip and drill large numbers of them and I believe the day is near when every Irish volunteer will have a rifle in his possession."

French Traitor Is Doomed to Death.

Paris, Aug. 17.—The first sentence of death by a French court-martial in the present war was announced. It was pronounced on a French tradesman, whose name has not been disclosed. It was proven that he sent reports on aviation, on the defenses of the country and on the wireless telegraph station on Eiffel tower to a French secret service agent, believing him to be a German spy.

Wounded German Gives Orders.

Brussels, Aug. 17.—An official communication says: "The situation at Liege is quiet. The forts have not been affected by the German fire. A German commander who had received a ball in the leg had his wound treated and continued to give orders from a wheeled chair."

Wilson Against Foreign War Loans.

Washington, Aug. 17.—President Wilson formally disapproved of the plans of American bankers floating loans in the United States for the benefit of belligerent countries of Europe, but expressed no objections to loans made to neutral countries.

AVIATORS MAKE DANGEROUS FLIGHT

French Airmen Fly Over Fortress O. Metz, Dropping Bombs.

Paris, Aug. 17.—Details of a daring exploit at Metz carried out by French military aviators were given in an official communication issued by the French war office, which says:

"Lieutenant Casari and Corporal Prudhomme, flying in separate aeroplanes, left the French fortress of Verdun with orders to reconnoiter if possible and destroy the dirigible balloon shed in the German fortress of Metz.

"Lieutenant Casari and Corporal fortress at a height of nearly 9,000 feet, while Corporal Prudhomme remained at the lower altitude of about 6,800 feet.

"A terrific fire was directed on the two aviators from the fortress garrison and during the fusillade the motor of Casari's aeroplane stopped. As he did not wish to fail in his mission he began to volplane and while doing this threw a bomb with marvelous coolness. Shortly afterwards he succeeded in getting his moter started again.

"In the meantime the corporal hurled his projectile also.

"The smoke over the city prevented the aviators seeing whether they had been successful, but they believed they had achieved their purpose and flew away amid a rain of shells from quick firing guns. They returned safely to Verdun."

T. R. FOR MONROE DOCTRINE

Colonel Says It Has Kept Us Out of Great War.

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 17.—Nearly half the political speech Colonel Roosevelt delivered before the Progressive state convention here was devoted to a discussion of "the great cataclysm which has engulfed all Europe in war."

"If the Monroe doctrine had not been steadfastly maintained," he said, "the United States, in all probability, would have been drawn into the present struggle."

Save Time Save Freight

Rids Your Stock of Worms

Worms are deadly, dangerous foes—enemies to health of hogs, sheep, cattle and horses—PROFIT DESTROYERS—thieves that rob you right and left—night and day. You can't have thrifty, profit-producing stock and worms. SAL-VET will drive out these blood-sucking, life-sapping parasites and repay you many times its small cost. It sharpens the appetite, improves digestion, helps all stock grow faster, keeps them healthier, so they'll sell quicker and for more money. Easy to feed—animals doctor themselves. Money back if it fails to fill every claim made.

Read what Geo. McKerrow & Sons Co., Pewaukee, Wis., say: "SAL-VET was a great asset in feeding our undefeated home-bred animals at the fall shows, and we must have it to produce winners for the next season. The Champion Oxford Ram at the 1912 International has had constant access to SAL-VET."

Come in and get more actual proof of its wonderful merit. We are exclusive agents for SAL-VET and guarantee it to every purchaser. You save both time and freight charges by dealing with us. (6)

EUROPE'S TANGLE

TELLS CAUSES OF WAR

The Racial Differences, Order in Which Nations Took Up Arms and Why Are Made Plain.

Dr. Thomas E. Green took all of his time Saturday afternoon to explain to his audience at Chautauqua the origin and development of the European war, and every one of his hearers sat for two hours listening to the most interesting way in which he unravelled the European tangle.

Dr. Green first explained the difference between Teuton and Slav and the struggle between them.

The Teutons are the Germanic peoples of Europe, living largely in Germany and Austria. The origin of the Slavs is doubtful. There is no reason for their name. It signifies nothing as to language or race and might just as well have been anything else. The Slavs were a wandering people and are now found scattered throughout Europe. The Servians and many other people of the Balkan states, the Poles and Russians are Slavs.

For some unknown reason there has always been an antipathy between the Slavs and the Teutons. Their hatred for each other can no more be explained than can the reason be given for the enmity between dogs and cats.

A Constant Struggle for Seaports.

A second thing necessary for the understanding of the war, Dr. Green said, was the realization of the overcrowded condition of Europe. Americans are too prone to stand in awe of the nations of Europe, which are only small patches of ground comparatively, and the whole of them could be placed two and a half times in that section of the United States that lies between Albany, N. Y., and Denver, Col. Each of these countries has a vital need for seaports, and it is the struggle for seaports which has long kept Europe in trouble and is really at the bottom of the present war.

The Make-Up of Austro-Hungary.

The make-up of the Austro-Hungarian empire and its government explains one of the principal reasons for the present struggle. The empire is composed of Austria, whose people are German; Hungary, whose people are Tartars, the descendants of the Huns brought into Europe by Attila, and Bohemia, whose people are Slavs.

This empire is under the rule of Austria, the reigning house of which, the Hapsburgs, has been on the throne for 300 years.

These Hapsburg rulers, with the same characteristics as their people, have been a daring, reckless and wicked lot of men. Not one of them has died a natural death. They have all been killed in battle, assassinated or have committed suicide. Franz Josef selected the least debauched of his nephews as his successor. It was the assassination of this nephew, the crown prince, this summer that precipitated the war.

The Alliance and the Entente.

Dr. Green then explained the meaning of the triple alliance and triple Entente.

The triple alliance was formed by Bismarck after the Franco-Prussian war, in 1871. For the protection of the German peoples he united the German states and Austria. To make the thing still stronger, Italy, who had feared France ever since Napoleon had placed his son on the throne at Rome, was induced to join. These three nations signed a treaty that bound them hard and fast to aid each other in war.

Entente is nothing more than the French word meaning "understanding." It is a "gentleman's agreement" among England, France and Russia to look after each other's welfare.

Causes of the Present War.

And now comes the more immediate causes of the war.

At the time of the first Balkan war Servia tried to get seaports. Austria prevented this by taking the two small countries on the coast, Bosnia and Hertzegovina, uniting them into an independent nation and promising them protection. This was just another of the many things that have made the Slavs bitter against the Teutons.

Then, as the immediate cause, comes the assassination of the Austrian crown prince. On a trip of inspection to Bosnia (during the recent Balkan war Austria had annexed it) a bomb was thrown at him. He threw up his arm and knocked it into the street behind his carriage, escaping injury. He went on to the government building and in a speech reproved the governor for such poor protection of the future ruler. During the return of the procession the crown prince and his wife were shot by a Servian, a university student from Belgrade.

Franz Josef Stirs Up Trouble.

The trouble had about died down, when Franz Josef suddenly made three demands on Servia. He asked: First, that the assassin be given to Austria for trial; second, that Servia apologize, and third, that Servia guarantee to stop all further Slavic agitation against Austria.

Servia refused the first, complied with the second, and it was beyond her control to guarantee the third. Austria took this as an unsatisfactory answer and gave Servia forty-eight hours to right it. It could not be done, so Austria sent troops to bombard Belgrade, the capital of Servia.

With this attack on the small Slavic country by Austria, Russia with her 50,000,000 Slavs began to mobilize her troops and refused to reply to Austria's demand asking for the reason of Russia's mobilization.

Austria then called on her ally, Germany, and the kaiser demanded a reply from Russia. Russia said Austria must cease operations against Servia. Then Germany began to mobilize. Italy flatly refused to support her allies.

England Fails to Make Peace.

At this juncture King George of England called on France and Italy to help try to bring about peace. Servia was to submit an explanation of her position. The explanation was made, and England, France and Italy agreed that Austria was in the wrong. War preparations continued, and Russia called on France for aid.

France, too, was glad of a chance to try to regain the provinces of Alsace and Lorraine, lost to Germany in the Franco-Prussian war. She said she would be glad to enter the present conflict if her coast could in some way be protected, and England was the only country left to protect the coast of France. After long consideration England, to protect France's coast and to keep Germany from becoming a strong naval power, joined with France and Russia.

The smaller countries are falling into line as their fancy or blood relation dictates.

"EVERY MAN CAN BE A KING."

Mrs. Leonora M. Lake Pleads For a Pure, Wholesome Life and Urges the Happy Habit.

"When Man is King" was the subject of Mrs. Leonora M. Lake's address at Chautauqua last night, and it was a plea for a more wholesome, natural life and a hopeful expression that such a life was coming.

"King," said Mrs. Lake, "means 'the man who is able.' It is therefore possible for every man to be a king. He must be able to live as his God intended he should live. To do this he must be able to overcome, and to overcome himself more than anything else. The man who cannot control his own actions will never lead the kingly life."

Mrs. Lake then listed several things that men must put away from themselves. Profanity, bad temper, worry,

FRENCHMAN DEAD

DR. LAFAYETTE OF HOPKINS, 95 YEARS OLD, BURIED TODAY.

RELATIVE OF GENERAL

Dr. Thomas Lafayette, one of the oldest physician in the country, died at his home in Hopkins at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, after a severe month's illness due to old age. The funeral services, held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at the residence were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Griffith, pastor of the Baptist church of Hopkins. Burial took place at the Hopkins cemetery.

Thomas Lafayette was 95 years old. He was born September 17, 1819, at Leon, France. His paternal grandfather and Marquis de Lafayette, who rendered such signal assistance to the American Colonies, during the war of the Revolution, were cousins. Dr. Lafayette had retained a vivid recollection of many visits of the Marquis to the home of his grandfather.

Thomas Lafayette received his preliminary education in the parish schools at Leon, and having decided to make the practice of medicine his life work, he entered the Paris Academy of Medicine, where he spent seven years in study. The following ten years were spent in practice in the various hospitals of Paris and other cities.

Dr. Lafayette came to this country in 1850. His first location was at Reid's Landing, Minnesota, an Indian mission, where he spent several years. During the Civil war, he enlisted in a Minnesota infantry regiment, with which he served throughout the war. He took part in several of the most hotly contested battles, including the engagement at Pittsburgh Landing.

He was honorably discharged from the service in 1866, after which he resumed his professional practice, locating at Faribault and Morristown, Minn., where he remained several years. He then went to St. Louis, and later practiced at what it now known as Oronogo, near Joplin, Mo., and then came to Hopkins, where he lived the rest of his life.

Dr. Lafayette was married when a young man, and his wife died several years ago. Several children, living in New York, survive him but as he preferred the life of a recluse he had not even heard from his family in many years. He had lived alone since coming to Hopkins.

A GOOD RACE MEET.

The race meet at the county fair, September 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, promises to be one of the very best in this part of the country. Maryville is a member of the Big Four circuit, composed of St. Joseph, Parnell, Creston and this city. The dates of the four race meets follow closely.

Mr. Stevens announces that he is planning to start Miss Sly, D. J. W. Coakley's fast mare, after the world's record for five-eighths of a mile at the Maryville meet if conditions are favorable. He is confident that if the track is fast and the mare in good condition she can lower the mark. If the attempt is made notice will be given to the people of Creston in time for admirers of horseflesh to witness the trial.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Casteel of Ravenwood were in the city Sunday evening visiting relatives and friends.

James Horton and John Moyer of near Ravenwood were city business visitors Saturday.

SENATOR CANCELS

LAFOLLETTE IS SICK, BUT G. R. STUART REPLACES HIM.

MRS. GATES TOMORROW

Tuesday a Big Day—Auditorium Tent Filled to Capacity at Both Programs Sunday.

Tonight.

8:00—Concert, which will include a "playette," by Avon company.

Tuesday.

Morning:

9:00—Field day sports for boys and girls under 14 years of age.

Afternoon:

2:00—Prelude, Avon Sketch club.

2:30—Lecture, George R. Stuart.

Evening:

8:00—Prelude, Avon company.

8:30—Reading of play, by Lulu Tyler Gates.

Tomorrow is considered one of the biggest days of the Chautauqua, despite the fact that Senator Robert M. LaFollette cannot be here. The management has received notice that Senator LaFollette is sick and cannot fill any of his engagements In his stead George R. Stuart is coming. And for the night program Lulu Tyler Gates will be here.

George R. Stuart is the Kentucky preacher who has been here twice before and kept his audiences laughing with his funny stories. While the cancellation of LaFollette is a disappointment, the management considers it very fortunate that such a strong man as Stuart was procured.

Miss Gates is expected to draw one of the largest crowds of the season tomorrow night, for she has done it on two other occasions here. "Daddy-Long-Legs," a recent popular story, her reading of which has been making a hit this summer, will be given here.

Yesterday's attendance was practically the same as that of a year ago, and at both afternoon and evening programs the big tent was filled to capacity. The report of Dr. Green's talk Saturday and the announcement that he would continue it Sunday drew a large crowd yesterday to hear him discuss the European war. A member of the peace commission, conversant with the facts at first hand, and the interest taken by the people in the war combined to make it one of the most interesting addresses ever given here.

In fact the whole of the first two days, Dixie people, Mrs. Leonora M. Lake, Sunday school day and all were successful.

ST. BENEDICT'S PARISH PICNIC.

Big Day Enjoyed by the People of Burlington Junction Church.

The members of St. Benedict's church celebrated a joyous day Saturday. The little church was well filled for the service at 9 o'clock, when the Rev. Patrick Cummins, O. S. B., one of the former boys of the congregation, celebrated mass, preached an appropriate sermon and gave benediction with blessed sacrament.

At 11 o'clock every one adjourned to the picnic grounds, a pretty spot on the river just north of the railway, opened by the courtesy of W. W. Jones. At noon a feast of good things was enjoyed and the afternoon spent in delightful enjoyment. The families present were T. J. Tobin and family, Richard Tobin and family, Pat Cummins and family, John Messbarger and family, W. M. Messbarger and family, Roy Lyle and family, Bert Messbarger and family, J. H. Gebbeken and family, Joe Messbarger and family. Among the visitors present were F. E. Cummins of St Joseph, Mary, Helen, Thomas and Phil Tobin and Agnes and Bernard Sherlock of Maryville.

To Visit in Omaha.

WELL AND SANDPOINTS

Diggers Are Having Trouble—Wabash's Expert Arrived Yesterday and is Prospecting.

Since starting the big 6-foot well on the Ditto place, just west of the water works, Saturday afternoon, work has been kept up incessantly. The men are having a hard time with it to get it curbed and keep the quick sand out of it, but they are gradually deepening it. Digging has to be stopped about every twenty minutes to pump out the sand and water. The work is hard and exhausts the men rapidly, so that many shifts are used. The aldermen have been helping with it.

The engine which is to be used for pumping the well is already here and in operation, pumping out the sand and water. The strainer has arrived and will be put into the well as soon as it can be dug.

Should the suction of the pump draw fine sand through the strainer and fill the well, as some persons think it will, a sandpoint will be used instead.

Yesterday Mr. Hawkinsmith superintendent of the Wabash railroad's water system, came to prospect for a water supply. He sunk a small hole about 100 feet west of the reservoir and found a supply which, with the use of a sandpoint, will give about forty gallons a minute, he believes. He advised putting down another sandpoint about twenty feet away and pumping from the two of them directly into the reservoir for temporary relief. This would give nearly 50,000 gallons a day.

Today Mr. Hawkinsmith is prospecting in a direct line northwest from the hole he sunk yesterday. He believes the stratum of sand, about eight feet of clear, coarse sand, runs in that direction, and if the results he finds are satisfactory he advises the installation of a series of sandpoints, joined by laterals to a main and all pumped by one pump.

These are only tentative plans, and it depends on the supply of water found as to whether they will be carried out at all.

The board of public works said this morning, however, that whether anything came of this, the work of prospecting for a supply would be continued until one was found or it was proved beyond doubt that there is none. Some sandpoints are here now, and as many others as may be needed are available.

Meanwhile, an effort will be made to get the big well in operation as soon as possible and to put down and pump three or four sandpoints.

FUNERAL FOR MISS CARSON.

Services Held at Burlington Junction This Afternoon.

The funeral services of Miss Dertha Carson, who died Sunday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Carl Kidney, two miles north of Wilcox, were held at 1 o'clock today at Burlington Junction. The body was interred in the cemetery at Burlington Junction.

The deceased was about 35 years old and had been blind for the past nine years. With her widowed mother she had made her home with a brother-in-law, Carl Kidney, and his family for a number of years.

BIG FIGHT IS ON

GENERAL BATTLE BETWEEN GERMANS AND ALLIES RAGES.

ADRIATIC NAVAL WAR

Report Says French Squadron Sinks Two Austrian Vessels and Sets Fire to Third.

(By American Press.)

Omaha, August 17.—The general battle between the Germans and the allied forces, which has been imminent for the last week, has begun and is now raging at its height. A naval battle in the North Adriatic is also reported.

A dispatch from Nish says that two Austrian battleships have been sunk, another set on fire and a third put to flight by a French squardon.

Another dispatch from Servia dated Sunday says: "A naval battle between French and Austrian warships off Budua, Austria, on the Adriatic, at 9 o'clock this morning. The French squadron, coming somewhat from the southwest, attacked the Austrian warships. Two Austrian ironclads were sunk, a third set on fire and the fourth fled northward toward Cataro.

"The fight lasted more than an hour."

MANY ENTRIES BEING RECEIVED.

For the Live Stock Show at the Fair—Season Tickets for $2.

The Nodaway County Fair and Agricultural association in Maryville, September 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5, promises to be a great success. Many entries are being received daily for the live stock shows, and also the race meet. The agricultural exhibit will consist of a fine display of products and the poultry show is attracting a great deal of attention. The interest that is taken all over the county in the coming fair assures the management that a record breaking crowd will be in attendance.

Season tickets are now on sale at the drug stores in the city, and they sell for $2. Single admission tickets will be 50 cents.

Harrison Bros., who own the land just north of the fair grounds, will have charge of the teams at the fair. A small charge of 10 cents will be made for the caring of the teams there. George Lucas will have charge of a feed barn on his farm, just east of the grounds.

Everything is in readiness for the opening, the race track is in good condition, and there will be plenty of water. There are four good wells on the grounds at present. Unless rain is had by next week the road in front of the grounds and also the race track will be sprinkled daily.

The management promises that there will be no gambling or no cheap shows at the fair. They have issued eighteen complimentary tickets to the ministers of the city.

WABASH TRESTLE DESTROYED.

Practically No Train Service On Wabash Sunday and Monday On Account of Burning of Trestle.

Maryville was practically without train service Sunday and Monday on the Wabash, owing to the burning of a high trestle on that road one mile west of Wilcox. The trestle was destroyed Saturday night and caught fire from a spark from the engine on the night passenger train. On Sunday a train from Stanberry arrived here about 2 o'clock and went to the destroyed trestle, where passengers transferred from the train that was on the other side of the trestle. This train returned to Maryville and on down the line as No. 12 passenger. Sunday evening No. 3 arrived about 7:11 and went to the scene of the fire, where their passengers transferred to a train on the other side of the burned trestle. Then No. 3 left Maryville, taking No. 14 schedule. Monday morning No. 51 passenger from Stanberry arrived about 9 o'clock and went to the scene of the fire and returned as No. 12.

It is thought that regular train service will be resumed this evening.

deceitfulness, in temperance and such things. In addition to overcoming any of these things in himself, every man should encourage his fellows to do without them.

Our present condonation of the excesses of our young men is a disgrace, she says.

In closing, Mrs. Lake expressed the belief that a time was coming when men would live free from these faults, and she urged the happy habit. She told her hearers to think of what might have been, and then give thanks and be happy for what is.

THE FARMERS PROTECT US.

Dr. Green Says This Country is Too Valuable as World's Granary to Be Attacked.

The farmers of America are worth more to her as protection against war than all the soldiers, guns and war vessels that could be gathered along her coasts, according to Dr. Thomas E. Green in his lecture yesterday on "America, the World's Peacemaker."

The United States need never fear an attack, he said, because, as the country which feeds the world, she is too valuable to it for the nations to allow any other nation to make war on her.

With this as his principal reason as to why the United States should remain a peaceful nation, Dr. Green went on to show the awful cost of war in life, suffering, misery, poverty, physical weakening of a people, retarding of progress and the money cost.

That the United States, a nation free from any complications with other powers, situated apart from them and without an enemy, spends annually the millions of dollars which she does in order to keep up an army and navy that is a cheap imitation of European insanity is an absurdity and a crime against the people, he said.

Last year this country spent 72 per cent of her income, $700,000,000, to pay the expenses of the war, navy and pension departments of the government. Money with which all the arid portions of the country could and ought to be irrigated and made fertile, Dr. Green believes.

One battleship costs $15,000,000 to build, $750,000 annually to keep in repair and is no good after ten years of service. The cost of one battleship would build modern, sanitary tenements sufficient to house 300,000 persons, or it would give 35,000 boys a four year's university training.

"War, the fighting, never accomplished anything," said Dr. Green. "After the battles are over, about six men get together and settle the differences. Very, very few of the world's advancements can be traced as a direct result of war.

"The abolishment of slavery is apparently one of these few things. Yet the money which the civil war cost would have bought, educated, endowed and transported all the negroes, if you wish that, thirty-seven times."

Mexico is the United States' most delicate and dangerous question, according to Dr. Green. To his personal knowledge, the intervention was brought on by an organized propaganda of a few greedy capitalists. He believes we will get out somehow, but if we don't we will some day have a situation like that of Europe on our hands.

WASHINGTON AND WILSON.

Former Gave Best Advice, Latter Issues Best Proclamation, Says Peace Advocate.

The first and present presidents of the United States were highly praised for their work for peace in the lecture of Dr. Thomas E. Green last Saturday.

He said that the best advice ever given to this country was that of Washington when he urged that the United States never become entangled in European affairs by treaties binding her to foreign countries.

"If we had signed a hard and fast treaty allying ourselves with England for the purpose of advancing the Anglo-Saxon peoples, see where we would be now in the present war," he said.

"Our only hope," Dr. Green added "is to continue following Washington's advice, and he complimented Woodrow Wilson for his efficient work in keeping unscrupulous Americans from violating neutrality.

"There never was a proclamation of neutrality in human history so carefully drawn as that of President Wilson," he declared.

EVERY SEAT HAS A BACK.

Provisions for More Comfort Made in Chautauqua Tent—Very Small Reserved Section.

Many expressions are being heard on the chautauqua grounds as to the comfortableness of the seats in the auditorium this year.

Every seat in the big tent has a back to it. A very few chairs in front of the platform are reserved.

The canvass seats with their backs are so much more comfortable than the old style plank benches, that the people have at once noticed it and many have expressed an added interest in the lectures because of the change.

And to make it still better, the large space in the center that used to be reserved is now open to everybody.

Chautauqua Notes.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Montgomery of Skidmore drove to Maryville yesterday to hear the afternoon program.

Last night's lecture was very much about the men, but no speaker could leave the women out and this was one of Mrs. Lake's sage sayings: "There is no need of us women having nerves; just keep sweet, take things as they come and be glad they're no worse."

JAPS SEND ULTIMATUM TO GERMANS

Demand Withdrawal of Warships In East.

MUST REPLY BY SUNDAY

Leased Territory of Kiauchau Must Be Restored to China.

OTHERWISE JAPAN WILL ACT.

War Is Meant if Request Is Not Complied With.

Tokyo, Aug. 17.—Japan has sent an ultimatum to Germany, demanding the withdrawal of German warships from the Orient and the evacuation of Kiauchau, and giving Germany until Sunday, Aug. 23, to comply with the demand. Otherwise, the ultimatum states, Japan will take action.

The general expectation in Tokyo is that the ultimatum will be followed by war.

Takaaki Kato, the Japanese foreign minister, simultaneously with the dispatch of the ultimatum, conferred with George W. Guthrie, the American ambassador, and made to him a broad statement calculated to assure the United States that American interests in the far east would be safeguarded and China's integrity upheld.

Owing to doubts whether communications with Berlin were assured, Japan in order to insure the arrival of the ultimatum forwarded it to Berlin by six channels, including Washington, London and Stockholm. The government also notified Count von Rex, German ambassador to Japan, and likewise retarded the time limit for a reply until Aug. 23.

The Ultimatum.

The ultimatum follows:

"We consider it highly important and necessary in the present situation to take measures to remove the causes of all disturbances of the peace in the far east and to safeguard the general interests as contemplated by the agreement of alliance between Japan and Great Britain.

"In order to secure a firm and enduring peace in eastern Asia, the establishment of which is the aim of the said agreement, the imperial Japan government sincerely believes its duty to give the advice to the German government to carry out the two following propositions:

"First, to withdraw from Japan and Chinese waters German men-of-war and armed vessels of all kind and to disarm at once those which cannot be so withdrawn.

"Second, to deliver on a date not later than Sept. 15 to the imperial Japanese authorities without condition or compensation the entire leased territory of Kiauchau, with a view to the eventual restoration of the same to China.

"The imperial Japanese government announces at the same time that in the event of it not receiving by noon on Aug. 23, 1914, an answer from the imperial German government signifying its unconditional acceptance of the above advice offered by the imperial Japanese government, Japan will be compelled to take such action as she may deem necessary to meet the situation."

U. S. to Deliver Jap Ultimatum.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Owing to cable interruption, Japan has not been able to deliver its ultimatum to Germany and the United States will undertake to communicate it to Berlin.

Four Hundred Depart From Hamburg on Special Train.

London, Aug. 17.—A dispatch from Berlin by way of Copenhagen states that the return of the Americans homeward will now proceed more speedily, as railway traffic is becoming more regular from all the larger centers of Germany.

Sixty Americans left Munich for Holland. A train from Berlin for Holland on Wednesday will carry 400 Americans, including sixty from Dresden. Americans in Frankfort and Bad Nauheim will leave for Holland in ordinary trains, four of which will depart daily.

GENERAL BATTLE ON AT DINANT

French Troops Repulse the Germans.

FORCED BACK TEN MILES

Both Austria and Servia Claim to Have Had Best of Encounters.

LULL IN NORTH BELGIUM FIGHT

Invaders Sweeping Down Valley of Meuse.

WAR SUMMARY.

While the German forces are pushing forward through the valley of the Meuse, and still more extensive operations are in progress along the Alsace-Lorraine frontier, where the French and German armies are in contact, Japan has sent an ultimatum to Germany demanding the withdrawal of the German warships from the Orient and the evacuation of Kiauchau, a German protectorate in China.

Late dispatches report an offensive movement by the French from Luneville to Sarrebourg, but this is considered as yet merely an outpost affair.

A state of siege has been proclaimed in Bulgaria.

London, Aug. 17.—Despite the repeated repulses which they have suffered, the German battalions continue to move forward for a decisive encounter, which cannot be delayed much longer.

While there has been a lull in the fighting in northern Belgium, the invaders are sweeping along the valley of the Meuse, south of Namur, and have reached Dinant, where part of a strong French force, which is established behind that town, took the offensive and defeated them.

The incident shows that the French crossed the Belgian frontier to join hands with their allies not a moment too soon. All along the Alsace-Lorraine frontier the advance guards of the two opposing armies have come into contact, and, according to French official reports, the Germans have been driven back everywhere with loss.

French Hold Passes.

Strong French forces are now in possession of all the passes of the Vosges mountains, from the west as far as those leading down to Colmar. Farther south, French forces are ready to proceed over the flat country toward Muelhausen.

The French have taken the offensive along the line from Luneville to Sarrebourg, an the German frontier, but here, as in the other theaters of war, the main armies have not come into contact.

On the Austro-Servian and Austro-Russian frontiers both sides claim victories in encounters. But these can have little effect on the general result unless the Servians compel the Austrians to send stronger forces in an attempt to subdue them.

Austria is preparing to resist an attack on the shores of the Adriatic, which possibly will be undertaken by the joint Anglo-French troops. It is explained that the state of siege, which had been proclaimed in Bulgaria, is simply a precautionary measure so that the country will be prepared in case of emergency.

General Engagement Around Namur.

Brussels, Aug. 17.—A general engagement has occurred in the neighborhood of and southward of Namur, as far as Dinant, fifteen miles away.

An account of the fighting south of Namur says German cavalry occupied a portion of the town of Dinant, on the left bank of the Meuse, fifteen miles south of Namur. French infantry, coming from the north, however, drove them out of the town. The fight was principally an artillery affair. The French gradually drove the Germans back until they were about ten miles south of Dinant, pursued by mounted rifles and infantry.

An official announcement by the French war office says the French troops took over 500 German prisoners when they occupied several mountains around Donon, also known as Rougemont, on the border of German Lorraine.

Battle In Upper Alsace.

Delmont, Switzerland, Aug. 17.—Fighting has begun again in upper Alsace, between Belfort and Altkirch. Gunfire is incessant. The French army which retired from Muelhausen has been reinforced and has renewed its advance.

SCENE OF BATTLE.

French-German Border, Where Greatest Battle of History Is In Progress.

FRENCH WIN VICTORY ON ADRIATIC SEA

Two Austrian Warships Sunk and Another Set on Fire.

London, Aug. 17.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegraph company from Nish, Servia, says: "A naval battle between French and Austrian warships began off Budua, Austria, on the Adriatic.

"The French squadron, coming from the southwest, attacked the Austrian warships. Two Austrian ironclads were sunk, one was set on fire, and a fourth fled northwards."

RIFLES FOR VOLUNTEERS

England to Let Irish Defend Their Country.

Dublin, Aug. 17.—John E. Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader, in a speech while presenting colors to the Marlborough corps of Irish volunteers, referred to the enthusiasm which had been aroused all over Ireland by his statement in the British parliament that Irishmen of the north and the south, whether Protestant or Catholic, were prepared to fight shoulder to shoulder to defend the Irish shores against a foreign foe and to preserve order. He added:

"I have in my possession and will shortly be able to present the volunteers several thousand rifles.

"I have information that the British government, which has publicly declared its intention of entrusting the defense of Ireland to the Irish volunteers, is about to arm, equip and drill large numbers of them and I believe the day is near when every Irish volunteer will have a rifle in his possession."

French Traitor Is Doomed to Death.

Paris, Aug. 17.—The first sentence of death by a French court-martial in the present war was announced. It was pronounced on a French tradesman, whose name has not been disclosed. It was proven that he sent reports on aviation, on the defenses of the country and on the wireless telegraph station on Eiffel tower to a French secret service agent, believing him to be a German spy.

Wounded German Gives Orders.

Brussels, Aug. 17.—An official communication says: "The situation at Liege is quiet. The forts have not been affected by the German fire. A German commander who had received a ball in the leg had his wound treated and continued to give orders from a wheeled chair."

Wilson Against Foreign War Loans.

Washington, Aug. 17.—President Wilson formally disapproved of the plans of American bankers floating loans in the United States for the benefit of belligerent countries of Europe, but expressed no objections to loans made to neutral countries.

Rids Your Stock of Worms

Worms are deadly, dangerous foes—enemies to health of hogs, sheep, cattle and horses—PROFIT DESTROYERS—thieves that rob you right and left—night and day. You can't have thrifty, profit-producing stock and worms. SAL-VET will drive out these blood-sucking, life-sapping parasites and repay you many times its small cost. It sharpens the appetite, improves digestion, helps all stock grow faster, keeps them healthier, so they'll sell quicker and for more money. Easy to feed—animals doctor themselves. Money back if it fails to fill every claim made.

Read what Geo. McKerrow & Sons Co., Pewaukee, Wis., say: "SAL-VET was a great asset in feeding our undefeated home-bred animals at the fall shows, and we must have it to produce winners for the next season. The Champion Galloway Ram at the 1912 International has had constant access to SAL-VET."

Come in and get more actual proof of its wonderful merit. We are exclusive agents for SAL-VET and guarantee it to every purchaser. You save both time and freight charges by dealing with us. (6)

AVIATORS MAKE DANGEROUS FLIGHT

French Airmen Fly Over Fortress O. Metz, Dropping Bombs.

Paris, Aug. 17.—Details of a daring aeroplane flight over the German fortress of Metz, in which bombs were dropped, are given in an official communication issued by the French war office, which says:

"Lieutenant Casari and Corporal Prud'homme, flying in separate aeroplanes, left the French fortress of Verdun with orders to reconnoiter if possible and destroy the dirigible balloon shed in the German fortress of Metz.

"Lieutenant Casari and Corporal Prud'homme reached the fortress at a height of nearly 9,000 feet, while Corporal Prud'homme remained at the lower altitude of about 6,800 feet.

"A terrific fire was directed on the two aviators from the fortress garrison and during the fusillade the motor of Casari's aeroplane stopped. As he did not wish to fail in his mission he began to volplane and while doing this threw a bomb with marvelous coolness. Shortly afterwards he succeeded in getting his motor started again.

"In the meantime the corporal hurled his projectile also.

"The smoke over the city prevented the aviators seeing whether they had been successful, but they believed they had achieved their purpose and flew away amid a rain of shells from quick firing guns. They returned safely to Verdun."

T. R. FOR MONROE DOCTRINE

Colonel Says It Has Kept Us Out of Great War.

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 17.—Nearly half the political speech Colonel Roosevelt delivered before the Progressive state convention here was devoted to a discussion of "the great cataclysm which has engulfed all Europe in war."

"If the Monroe doctrine had not been steadfastly maintained," he said, "the United States, in all probability, would have been drawn into the present struggle."
